Who Is Caring For Your Child?

We know it can be difficult sending your child off to people you do not know personally. However, you can sleep easy! Our counselors and staff at Camp are not only capable, but are also very excited to work with your child this summer. Camp Abe Lincoln follows over 300 standards in its ACA accreditation in safety, health and program quality as the level to meet and surpass to ensure a quality experience for all.

During the hiring process, we do expansive background checks to ensure your child's safety. All staff we hire go through a very extensive training program. Besides preparing them to work with children, we also certify them in all the various program areas that Camp Abe Lincoln has to offer. We lifeguard train all of our staff, so your children are safe in all of our aquatic program areas. We also have a medic on site and have a Registered Nurse on call at all times.

Homesickness

Going to Camp for the first time can be a high anxiety experience for a child (and parent)! We have some helpful tips to prepare you both for a beneficial and rewarding experience. If you have any more, please share with us!

- Read this packet with them! It will help them know what to expect and build excitement
- Hide your anxiety. As a parent, your child will look to you on how to act about this new experience. Talk about how you wish you could go! The more conversations you have with them, the better they will feel.
- Do NOT tell them you'll pick them up early! This prepares them to be homesick and less likely to try new things.
- Tell them you love them and send them letters!

Trading Post

Trading Post is our Camp Store, where we sell snacks and drinks for overnight campers, and merchandise for all campers. Do not give your child cash to use; you will deposit money into an account at Camp Check In or with the Day Camp order form.

Overnight campers will have the opportunity to go here during snack time, with the average snack costing $1. During the week, your camper will have a chance to buy our cool merchandise. For overnight camp, we will also be open during check out too.

Day campers will receive an order form at the beginning of the week. It must be returned by Thursday with payment to receive items on Friday! Snacks are provided for Day Campers. There are no refunds. Any leftover amount will be donated to our Annual Campaign to help send Kids to Camp.
